The California Historical Resources Information System (CHRIS) includes the statewide Historical Resources Inventory (HRI) database maintained by OHP and the records maintained and managed, under contract, by twelve independent regional Information Centers (ICs).

Individuals and government agencies seeking information on cultural and historical resources should begin their research by contacting the regional Information Center which services the county in which the resource is located. The IC Roster identifies the locations, contact information, and counties served by each regional IC.

Information Centers (ICs) – see IC Roster.

- Provide archeological and historical resources information, on a fee-for-service basis, to local governments and individuals with responsibilities under the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA), the National Historic Preservation Act (NHPA), and the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA), as well as to the general public.
- Integrate newly recorded sites and information on known resources into the California Historical Resources Inventory.
- Collect and maintain information on historical and archeological resources developed under projects or activities which were not reviewed under a program administered by OHP, including:
- Information on individual resources identified and evaluated in CEQA documents;

• Archaeological surveys performed by academic or avocational groups which are not associated with federal projects; and
• Archaeological and/or historical resource surveys conducted by agencies for planning purposes that do not involve an undertaking subject to review under Section 106 of the NHPA.
• Maintain a list of consultants who are qualified to do work within their area.

The Historical Resources Inventory (HRI) maintained by OHP includes only information on historical resources that have been identified and evaluated through one of the programs that OHP administers under the National Historic Preservation Act or the California Public Resources Code. The HRI includes data on:

- Resources evaluated in local government historical resource surveys partially funded through Certified Local Government grants or in surveys which local governments have submitted for inclusion in the statewide inventory;
- Resources evaluated and determinations of eligibility (DOEs) made in compliance with Section 106 of the National Historic Preservation Act;
- Resources evaluated for federal tax credit certifications;
- Resources considered for listing in the National and California Registers or as California State Landmarks or Points of Historical Interest.
The following institutions are under agreement with the Office of Historic Preservation to:

1. Integrate information on new Resources and known Resources into the California Historical Resources Information System.
2. Supply information on resources and surveys to government, institutions, and individuals who have a need to know.
3. Supply a list of consultants qualified to do historic preservation fieldwork within their area.
